Girds for Final Pre-Holiday Rush

Post Office Hires Extra Workers

For the first time in many years, the Salem post office has been able to handle Christmas parcels and packages without renting extra space, according to Postmaster Ray Reasbeck.

When the postal headquarters were in the building at N. Lincoln and State St., it was necessary to rent empty garages and other structures for storing packages. In the new building, there is room to expand operations, Reasbeck said.

With 12 days to go before Christmas, the Salem post office is in high gear next week to speed the movement of the growing volume of letters, cards and packets.

The metering machine tallied 30,000 pieces a day in mid-week, but the peak will come next week when, Reasbeck says, the count is expected to rise to 100,000 a day.

The volume this year is slightly behind the volume at comparable times in other years, despite the post office's plea to "Mail Early."

To accommodate the anticipated rush and facilitate the holiday postal traffic, Reasbeck will bolster the post office clerical and mailmen corps with extra helpers starting next Monday and extending through Dec. 24, if necessary.

He reported that 12 extra clerks, seven additional city mailmen and five substitute rural mail carriers have been employed to aid in the mail distribution. The sub carriers will deliver mail while regular carriers are out.

Progress Made In Fund Dispute

W. Branch, Sebring Officials Meet

"Substantial progress" was reported following an all-day conference Wednesday of officials of West Branch and Sebring Schools which are at loggerheads over the distribution of state and county monies two years ago. The session was held in the offices of the Mahoning County prosecutor, with Assistant County Prosecutor John McCracken presiding.

J. B. Blumenstiel, Alliance attorney representing West Branch Schools, said today that "substantial progress in agreeing on a stipulation of facts was made" which would shorten a possible hearing on the distribution of money.

The disputed sum involves the over-payment of $35,716.90 to Sebring in state foundation money, plus the distribution of assets and liabilities and tax money in the second half of 1960 following the splitting of the old Mahoning Local School District into Sebring and West Branch.

West Branch officials and the Alliance law firm of Blumenstiel, Strong and Blumenstiel declared the "unfair distribution of state foundation funds" following their request that the state auditor's office make a check on the actual amount distributed to the two schools in the third and fourth quarters of 1960.

The auditor's office investigated and mailed figures in late November to West Branch indicating the $35,716.90 overpayment to Sebring.

A declaratory judgment suit to be heard next Monday by the Mahoning County Common Pleas Court to settle the matter of fund distribution was continued pending further study on the matter, Atty. Blumenstiel said.

He also reported the possibility of a conference of West Branch and Sebring School officials and their counsels at Columbus with representatives of the state auditor's office and the Teachers' Representatives.

U.S. To Resume Cuban Squeeze

To Take Economic Steps Against Fidel

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to impose penalties on non-Communist shipping engaged in trade with Cuba, chiefly by denying American cargoes to the vessels.

New regulations are expected to be put into effect in about two weeks.

The President's move, disclosed Wednesday at a news conference, involves reviving plans that were shelved when the Cuban crisis broke in October.

Thus, the United States is reverting to its pre-crisis policy of putting an increasingly tight economic squeeze on the Castro regime in Cuba and, at the same time, making the cost of Soviet support for that regime as high as possible.

Kennedy also made two other major points about the Cuban situation:

1. He hopes that negotiations going on between U.S. and Soviet representatives in New York "will come to some conclusion in the not too distant future." Meanwhile

NATO Urged To Take Cold War Initiative

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today to take the initiative in the cold war and demonstrate that freedom is the wave of the future.

In a cautiously optimistic report to the annual NATO winter ministerial meeting, Rusk said the outcome of the Cuban crisis and weaknesses developing in the Communist bloc offered the West new opportunities.

The world may be arriving, he explained, at a time when the East instead of the West will do a greater part of the worrying.

Rusk also assured America's NATO allies the United States government is not negotiating with the Soviet Union on any other subject than Cuba.

He proposed wide-ranging Western studies of major diplomatic problems to consolidate advantages now flowing toward the Atlantic community.

And he warned the Soviet Union the United States has given all the concessions it intends to offer in the negotiations for a treaty to ban nuclear tests.

Rusk spoke for nearly an hour at the opening session of a three-day ministerial review of NATO problems in the Paris headquarters.

Fate of Skybolt Missile Project To Be Decided

Kennedy, Macmillan To Discuss Topic at Confab Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of the Skybolt missile program, subject of the hottest U.S.-British argument in years, hangs precariously on next week's meeting between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—and this country's military budget.

Tentative American plans to give up on the expensive missile—around which Britain has shaped its nuclear strategy—has brought a sharp reaction from Britain and put a strain on the alliance.

When asked about the Skybolt dispute at his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy spoke cautiously.

1. He was sure it would be discussed when he meets with Macmillan in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20. The United States is now reviewing its budget for the new fiscal year. No final decision will be made until these matters have been completed.

2. The United States has put a half-billion dollars into the program so far. To complete it and buy the missiles might require $2.5 billion more. Five tests of the 1,100-mile range ballistic missile for launching from bombers have not been successful.

"So—there really is the question of how much it is worth to the British and ourselves to put in that kind of money when we have competing claims for our available funds," the President said.

Kennedy characterized the Skybolt as "the most sophisticated weapon imaginable. To fire a missile from a plane moving at high speed to hit a target 1,000 miles away requires the most advanced engineering and, of course, it has been really, in a sense, the kind of engineering that's been beyond us."

British experts don't believe the Skybolt is a flop. They feel the initial troubles can be overcome. Kennedy noted that Britain has a "very important equity in the matter."

There is, of course, the possibility that Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara may reconsider what seems to be the present intention to drop the program.

McNamara's talk with British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft in London reportedly got nowhere.

Britain, whose whole strategic nuclear strategy hinged on using the U.S. Skybolt on its own Vulcan bombers, is understood to have rejected firmly any suggestion that it might use the Hound Dog missile instead.

Official Low Here Is Minus 13

Bitter Cold, Biting Winds Spread Across Much of Ohio

A cold wave, powered by biting winds, spread today across much of Ohio. It added to the discomfort of residents in northeastern counties, where the snow blanket is up to four-feet thick.

Salem's official low reading was 13 below zero, recorded at the municipal sewage plant northwest of town at 7 a.m. today. The lowland area had a minus 14 reading the day before.

It was two below just before noon today, while in town the Farmers National bank thermometer showed 4 above.

One thing was certain: Any way you looked at the weather, it was COLD!

Overnight temperatures were expected to slide to between zero and 12 below in the Cleveland area, with readings reaching 6 to 13 below zero in Southern and Central Ohio. New snow accumulations of six inches or more were forecast for parts of Northern Ohio by morning.

"It looks like we'll get a break from the snow," said forecaster Lesley Hobson at the Cleveland Weather Bureau. "But no relief from the cold is in sight until maybe tomorrow. The sun may continue to come out of hiding every once in a while, but temperatures are due to stay below freezing."

The forecaster said he is keeping an eye on a low pressure system forming in Central Canada, which will bring more cold and possible snow to the area.

The coldest weather of the season hit the state from Canada late Tuesday night. Cold records that stood for 91 years toppled as the Arctic air kited through the state.

Makes Peace With Tito

Khrushchev Hits Albania, Red China

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has declared war on the ideological views of Communist China and Albania and publicly made his peace with his old enemy in the Communist camp, Yugoslav President Tito.

In his speech to the Supreme Soviet Wednesday Khrushchev outlined to his people for the first time the details of his feud with the dissenting Chinese and Albanians.

A neutralist diplomat called the speech "a historic turning point" in Moscow-Peking rivalry.

Khrushchev declared that dogmatism, a Communist synonym for the extreme views of the Chinese, had become just as dangerous as revisionism, a word applied to such independent Communist thinking such as Yugoslavia's.

He swore that, from now on, "Soviet Communists, to whom there is nothing higher than unity of the ranks of the world Communist movement, will fight resolutely against both right-wing and left-wing opportunism, which today is no less dangerous than revisionism."

In an open affront to the anti-Titoist Chinese and Albanians, Khrushchev declared Soviet friendship for the Yugoslav Communists.

This drew an approving nod from Tito, seated behind him on the stage, and loud applause from the deputies of the Supreme Soviet.

Khrushchev blamed Stalin for the differences that led to Yugoslavia's expulsion from the Communist camp in 1948.

"But our Yugoslav comrades were not wholly blameless," he added.

"There are still serious divergencies on a number of ideological questions, he continued, but recent moves in Yugoslav domestic and foreign policy have "eliminated much of what we regarded as erroneous and as prejudicing the cause of building socialism (communism) in Yugoslavia."

Four Area Men To Face Grand Jury

A multiple burglary case involving one Salem man and three others from Western Reserve Rd. will be presented to the Mahoning County grand jury when it convenes Monday in Common Pleas Court.

Among 60 other cases, the grand jury will review the case of Daniel Leyman, 28, his brother, Ted, 19, and James Baird, 18, all of Western Reserve Rd., and Jesse Rufener, 20, of 189 W. 14th St., charged with breaking and entering at several Mahoning County establishments this fall. The quartet pleaded guilty to all charges Dec. 2 at hearings before Mahoning County Judges Bruce R. Black in Sebring and Judge E. G. Diem in Boardman.

The Leymans and Baird are charged with burglarizing Ferguson's Fruit Market on Route 62 north of Salem on Oct. 22, malicious entry at the Ted Mesner coal mine on Route 45 in Ellsworth Township on Oct. 11 and breaking and entering the Ellsworth School that same date for the purpose of stealing.

Rufener, Baird and Ted Leyman also pleaded guilty to a breaking and entering on Oct. 13 at Wildwood Lake Park on Route 165 in southern Mahoning County.

Dan Leyman stirred excitement in Salem after his escape from two Mahoning County deputies following a race at his home and his subsequent capture in Salem by Lt. Robert Kirchgessner and Patrolmen Richard Whinnery and Donald Bradley at the Old Reliable Restaurant on E. State St. Oct. 24.

Leyman eluded the Mahoning lawmen when he jumped out a window at his home where Leyman had asked the authorities to take him to pick up some clothing.

The parole violator was also bound to the Columbiana County grand jury on Oct. 31 in Judge Luther Donbar's Northwest County Court after Leyman pleaded

Says Role In Cuba Should Be Left to History

President Touches Many Subjects In Press Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy tried again to close the book on the Adlai Stevenson chapter in the Cuban crisis. He said it should be left to history "when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

But he said he thought that after having read various statements of the past 10 days "any historian—and I think this matter should be left to historians—who walks through this mine field of charges and countercharges, should proceed with some care."

The President in his news conference Wednesday touched on many subjects — including the Mona Lisa and a record spoofing the First Family. But the questions kept returning to Cuba and Stevenson.

The President again endorsed the U.N. ambassador saying: "The fact of the matter is that Gov. Stevenson renders very distinguished service. He has done an excellent job at the United Nations."

But the President left up in the air who in the administration may have given two reporters information portraying Stevenson as urging appeasement during Cuban crisis conferences of the National Security Council's executive committee.

The president said: "It is my judgment that this statement or interpretation of Gov. Stevenson's position did not come from a member of the National Security Council. I satisfied myself on

Annual City Tax On $10,000 Homes Up Average of $20

The average annual tax increase on Salem homes having a valuation of $10,000 will be $20.08 as a result of the countywide property reappraisal completed this year, County Auditor Kenneth Bell said today. (The new tax rates were published in yesterday's News.)

The new tax rates are effective this year, with payment scheduled in 1963.

Bell said the Salem increase on a $10,000 home will hike the annual payment from $126.32 to $146.40. Owners will be taxed on 40 per cent of the valuation of their properties instead of 50 per cent as in the past.

Average annual taxes this year on $10,000 homes in neighboring communities, with previous totals in parentheses, will be:

Lisbon, $146.80 ($115.32), $31.48 more
Washingtonville, $163 ($144.65), $18.35 more; East Liverpool, $140.40 ($113.99), $26.41 more, and Wellsville, $146 ($121.32), $34.68 more. Countywide, the average tax increase on $10,000 homes will be $30, Bell said.

Apart from the reappraisal adjustment, tax rate fluctuations also are the result of new levies or bond issues approved by voters in the county subdivisions this year.

Bell said the next tax statements will be mailed about the middle of March, and property owners will be given about 45 days to pay or register complaints.

Property owners who will note the biggest jump in their taxes are those who have constructed homes within the past 10 years, Bell declared.

CBS Presents Nine Of the Top 10 Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—As the television season rumbles along, it becomes increasingly evident that the CBS network, programming heavily in big star names and comedy, has estimated accurately the public's taste.

CBS, powerful as a bulldozer, presents nine of the 10 most popular shows listed in the most recent Nielsen ratings, plus 18 of the top 20. This establishes some sort of a network record.

The Nielsen top 10—based on estimates of audiences between Nov. 11 through 25—are, in order, the comedy phenomenon "Beverly Hillsbillies," the Red Skelton hour, "Candid Camera," "Ben Casey," "Lucy," the Danny Thomas show, Jack Benny, the Andy Griffith show, "Gunsmoke," and "I've Got a Secret." Sole non-CBS show on the list is ABC's "Ben Casey."

Nine of the top 20 shows are comedy, three are game or panel shows and only two are Westerns ("Bonanza," NBC's only top-20 entry, was number 13).

If nothing else, the list indicates what the average viewer asks of television: light, painless entertainment.

Major disappointment of the week was "The Court-Martial of Captain Wycliff," on NBC's "Dick Powell Show" Tuesday night. It started off powerfully—a military trial of a war hero charged with shooting down a scientist who determined to go over to this nation's enemies.

But the hour resolved itself into the usual whodunit debate—whether the captain murdered the traitor or not. The wind-up was most unsatisfactory: the captain confessed he had not murdered, but "executed" him. It was as if the author, having gotten all tangled up in a moral question of homicide, couldn't find any way to finish the script.

Recommended tonight: "The Way from Darkness," ABC, 10-11 (EST) — drama on "Premier Theatre" starring Shelly Winters and Joan Hackett as two lonely, unhappy sisters; "Bonfire," CBS, 10-11—Peter Falk and Dina Merrill in an "Alfred Hitchcock Hour" tale of suspense.

Cuba Is Not a Rest Camp

Secretary of State Rusk has given us assurance that Soviet troops in Cuba are being "watched carefully" and are being withdrawn gradually.

The assurance does not assure. No one knows how many Russians are in Cuba, just as no one knows how many missiles and bombers were there.

No one knows how many troops have been or will be taken out. Unlike the missiles and bombers there isn't even a Russian statement covering their departure — only a promise that cannot be taken at face value.

Only one thing is clear, definite and absolutely certain. Russian troops in Cuba (they are no longer referred to as "technicians") are not there for their health. Cuba is not a rest camp for the Red army.

They are preparing mischief against the estimated billion-dollar project of turning loosed against its intended victims in this hemisphere.

They are preparing mischief against the United States and the New World.

When the mischief is ready, it will be loosed against its intended victims in this hemisphere. It is no longer Fidel Castro the Cuban communist that threatens hemispheric stability. It is upward of 15,000 Red army troops fully prepared to use Castro and his misled people for a grand design of conquest.

For a time it was possible to feel encouraged because Soviet missiles and bombers apparently were being taken out of Cuba. There is no encouragement left on that score.

Until all the Russian troops go home and the United States counts them going up docks to see if any are left over, the Cuba crisis will be as critical as it ever was.

Risk Absolute; Safety Relative

It pays to be scared of all holiday accident forecasts. Being scared may save your life and the lives of passengers in your car. This is the way it works:

The risk of driving and riding in an auto is a statistical absolute. At this time it is 5.2 deaths for every 100 million passenger miles.

This has been a comforting statistic, as a matter of fact, because the risk in 1941 was 12 deaths for every 100 million passenger miles. It has been growing smaller for 21 years.

There are signs now that it may be growing larger in the near future for reasons that safety engineers can't pin down exactly. But knowing what the absolute risk is, any driver can cut his individual risk to the disappearing point by his own actions.

It would not be hard to find 100 skilled drivers who have driven a million miles apiece without having an accident, let alone a fatality. They would be either professionals or amateurs with professional skill. And they would agree that one secret of their safety records was special caution during holiday seasons.

The risk is always there. It is absolute. But safety is relative to the other driver. He can control his own safety by the skill and prudence he brings to the job of operating a car. Do your best to be around for 1963.

When Politics Is Like a Baseball

Only a Democratic party insider could give an authoritative rundown on what is shaping up as a right for control of the organization—and even the insiders wouldn't agree.

But it was obvious after the November shellacking that a shakeup would be forthcoming, and it was a fair guess that when it happened Sen. Stephen M. Young would be a shaker.

Beyond that, nothing was obvious and few things guessable.

THE FIRST THING in rebuilding is to bring in new faces. In baseball, they fire the manager. If they don't think that's enough, they trade some players to the opposition and bring in new faces.

This is where the shakeup problem gets sticky in politics. It is conceivable that State Democratic Chairman William Coleman might be replaced, but bringing in new faces elsewhere isn't that easy.

As Sen. Young has put it, he himself is one of the top elected Democratic officials, and no one is going to replace him before his term expires. Nor can anyone replace Sen. Frank J. Lausche, who has just been re-elected for six more years and has little in common with Sen. Young.

And even though Gov. Michael J. DiSalle was overwhelmingly defeated in his bid for a second four-year term, even he cannot be whisked away, nor can any of the other Democratic personalities who went down to defeat with him in a state Republican landslide.

WHETHER SEN. YOUNG likes it or not, they are the Democratic party in Ohio and what happened to them could happen to him if he seeks renomination and re-election in 1964.

Like Gov. DiSalle, he won in 1958 not by the sheer attractiveness of his political personality but because the proposed right-to-work amendment on the ballot that year was poison for Republican candidates.

Before Sen. Young promises more than he can deliver in the way of shaking up the Ohio Democratic organization, he should consider the reasons Ohio went Republican in 1960 and again in 1962. It wasn't the manager's fault.

The candidates couldn't pull the votes. Could he have pulled them?

Tax Change Or Tax Reform? Both Considered Due

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Maybe the stock market did break on Monday, as reported in news dispatches, because of the statement of Wilbur D. Mills,

David Lawrence
tax-writing committee of Congress chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee that he is opposed to a tax cut now, or maybe it was for some other reason. But the fact is the chairman of the

Mr. Mills said that he "could not go along with the idea that you just cut taxes without regard to the deficit that is created." He insisted that tax cuts should be accompanied by tax reform and that the earliest date to expect such reform would be in January 1964.

It's quite possible, of course, that the administration may welcome the statement by Mr. Mills, because it could get officials out of a dilemma created for them when the prospects for business looked worse than they do today. Perhaps now, as business conditions seem to be improving, there will be less enthusiasm for the tax cut even inside the administration.

But the reasons given by Chairman Mills against a tax cut are so challenging that unquestionably some people who invest in the stock market took his remarks to mean that the expected inflation might not now materialize. This would account, of course, for the decline, which happened to be the most severe in several weeks. Once a definite trend is established and somebody in an influential position comes along who questions it, fears arise that the trend will not be continued.

THE OUTSTANDING fact is that business conditions are getting somewhat better, and Mr. Mills uses the argument that has often been employed before — namely, the time to reduce taxes is when business is bad and not when business is good. He expressed his views in a copyrighted interview in the current issue of U.S. News & World Report. Here is an excerpt from that interview:

Q. Mr. Mills, what can you tell us now about your attitude toward tax cuts in 1963?

A. The attitude that I have at the moment about a tax cut effective Jan. 1, 1963, is one of serious concern.

Earlier this year, when we were thinking terms of whether the economy was dipping to the point that required some stimulus through immediate tax reduction, we decided not to do it when, as you know, The issue was left open so that a new look could be taken later on as to whether or not the economy was performing in such a way as to justify the creation of additional deficit by tax reduction alone.

Q. What do you think is indicated now as to the need for a tax cut?

A. The situation, as I view it at this time from the point of view of the economy as a whole, on the basis of information coming to me from business and government sources, would indicate that there has not been a deterioration in our economy and that there probably will not be a deterioration during the early part of 1963. On the basis of that projection, it would seem that there probably would be little justification at the moment for a "quickie" tax cut effective Jan. 1, 1963.

Q. Do you mean that tax reduction is not necessary to maintain a strong economy?

A. At this time, in my opinion, a "quickie" tax cut doesn't seem to be.

Q. How do you feel about the argument that present tax rates are so high that they keep business from reaching a level at which there would be full employment?

A. That is probably true in the long run. But, on the basis of today's situation — the existing level of economic activity and personal income, numbers employed and other factors that could be mentioned — I question the need of an immediate tax cut for purposes of stimulating the present level of economic activity.

ESPECIALLY do I take that view when the net result would be to reduce revenues substantially in the year 1963 when they are already, without any reduction, apparently less than the rate of spending that may be projected in the budget for fiscal year 1964.

Q. How do you react to the idea of cutting taxes without regard to the deficit that might result?

A. I can't go along with the idea that you just cut taxes without regard to the deficit that is created. I think we have to look at many factors. All of us are aware of the desirability at any time of reducing the tax burdens upon the people. But, on the other hand, we have to take into account the effect on our public debt, whether or not we are providing those reductions in taxes out of a surplus of revenue.

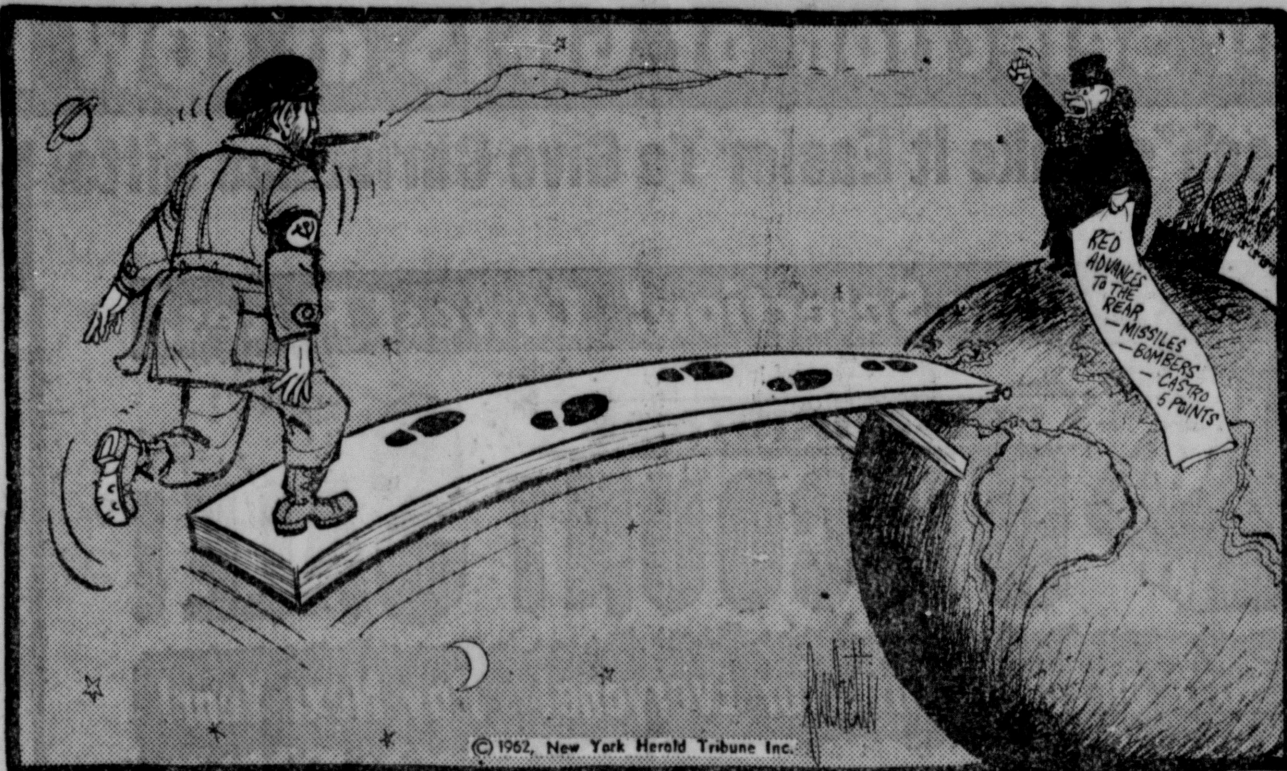

Q. Are there any conditions in which you would favor cutting taxes even though it might mean a bigger deficit?

A. If we were going into a depression, perhaps we would actually incur less deficit in the long run and less debt in the long run by doing everything we could to stop a depression — that is, minimizing its depth and the extent of the downturn. If we created additional deficit then — say it was $10 billion — we might avoid a deficit of $25 or $30 billion that would result from a depression.

Q. Are you saying that such a tax cut should await the actual onset of a recession and not be based on forecasts?

A. I doubt that you could sell a tax cut alone for purposes of trying to do something to the economy until it is generally discernible that a downturn is coming.

Certainly there are indications that maybe the economic picture has altered for the better, and it's possible that the whole problem of tax changes will be concentrate instead on tax reform — which, of course, is long overdue.

Communist Power Grows In Brazil

By VICTOR RIESEL

Moscow's account executive in charge of Latin America is Vicente Lombardo Toledano, a labor leader whose specialty is transmitting orders from the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City to Communist cadres, provoking riots, stirring strikes, and coordinating Cuban infiltration into Central and

Victor Riesel
South America.

His territory, though he is based in Mexico City, runs from the Rio Grande to the Falkland Islands. HE is a busy international Soviet hand—doubling as regional agent for the Russian global sabotage network known as the World Federation of Trade Unions and as leader of the Mexican Popular Socialist party. This is strictly a Communist operation.

On Nov. 16, Lombardo Toledano, an old enemy of mine, signaled the Latin American Communist propaganda apparatus to launch a continent-long attack on the United States. There is no doubt this will be rolling soon.

IT WILL BE effective. For there are few men inside Latin America who know Communist tactics well enough to counter Toledano's maneuvers.

There is, however, at least one who is truly expert. I take particular pride in knowing him—for he is a newsman, an editor, a crusader, willing to stand up. He is Carlos Lacerda, governor of the Brazilian State of Guanabara, in which is the city of Rio de Janeiro. Because he has fought the Communist apparat he has in the past been slugged, arrested and imprisoned by highly-placed devotees of the Soviets.

I asked Gov. Lacerda to brief me on developments in Brazil—which I believe now most vulnerable to the Soviets and to the propaganda offensive of such operatives as Lombardo Toledano.

I HEARD from Carlos Lacerda. He hit hard, as is so characteristic of him. What he reports is grim. For, if Brazil goes Castro, there will be a huge trap door in the which both continents can fall. "The Kremlin," said Lacerda, "has brought the techniques of Communist infiltration up to date. And Brazil is certainly the most important proving ground for their new strategy in Latin America."

Gov. Lacerda then made charges so serious they require, it seems to me, immediate international investigation.

"Long gone are the days," asserted the governor, "when people thought Communist infiltration should start from the bottom, through the masses. The Russians quickly realized that indoctrination of the masses was too slow."

"Today, and Brazil is a living example, they concentrate their efforts to convert the people in government, the sophisticated elite, the armed forces, the ruling classes."

"By making friends and influencing influential people, they promote difficulties and use them. Knowing that they are a minority, they take advantage of their own weakness and make their small minority the most vociferous group in the country. They believe — as Marx did — in the explosive power of ideas, rather than just 'economic factors.'"

THE COMMUNISTS, said Lacerda, act on the theory that it is better to have "an officer on your side than 50 soldiers, particularly if the officer controls the ammunition."

They hold an influence in Brazil, today, he warned, which "the small amount of Communist votes cast in all elections here would never indicate."

"They spread out corruption," revealed Lacerda, "then use it to demoralize and control. They prefer to provide advisers and assistants to all ministers than to have one minister of their own. It is the Communist anonymous tactic."

"As a result of the Communist success in infiltrating the ruling classes, the greatest Communist menace in Brazil does not spread from the drought-stricken North and Northeast, where poverty is concentrated but from the fertile and prosperous South, where influential people in some of the comparatively richest states in Brazil, lean towards the Reds. "IT ALSO ACCOUNTS for the fact that a larger proportion of Communists can be found in the Copacabana section than in the slums of Rio."

"If the Communists can control Brazil by proxy, they will control South America."

"With Africa integrating in a federation and adhering to the West, with Europe finding new strength, with Asia in a relative balance of power, and China stuck, the great hope of Russia lies in South America, with Brazil as its most vulnerable point."

"The effort already has started in the attempt to 'neutralize' Brazil, which is only a step to make it enter the Russian orbit."

"The great majority of the Brazilian people is against Communism, but we cannot say the same of the influential people in Brazil. The Communist effort concentrates on the latter much more than on the masses." And that really tells the story!

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You usually give good advice but I am annoyed at something you keep saying in your column. I decided if I saw it again I would write to you. Well, I saw it again yesterday so I am writing.

It was that letter about the husband who always leaned on the walls and made grade spots all over the house. You said, "Be thankful he's at home, and not out leaning on some blonde."

Why must it ALWAYS be a blonde? Who ever invented the idea that blondes are sexier, or racier, or bigger trouble makers than other women?

I had a perfectly grand marriage, or at least I THOUGHT I did until two years ago when I caught my husband in his own office, behind the file cabinet, with a stenographer. And her hair was jet black. Like yours, kiddo. — FOR THE RECORD.

Dear For the Record: Touche! And now if we can somehow dispose of the idea that Gentlemen Prefer Blondes you girls with the flaxen tresses would be less vulnerable to the verbal harpoons.

Incapable of Love?

Dear Ann: Can it be that some people are incapable of falling madly in love? Believe me, I've tried, but somehow I can't seem to make the grade.

I am a bachelor, 31, well situated in business and want very much to have a home and family.

I've made up my mind I'm going to marry before my next birthday. The girl I have my eye on is sensible, intelligent, loves children and will make a good wife and mother. I've told her I am not goofy in love and she says it's all right with her because she is goofy in love enough for both of us.

Could this be a good marriage? Am I being fair to her? Please answer in the paper, omitting initials, city, etc. If my friends knew I wrote this letter I'd die. — MR. ANONYMOUS.

Dear Mr.: Lasting love must be developed — one day at a time. The fact that a sensible girl appeals to you proves you have some sense yourself.

Since you've been honest with the girl about your feelings and she is eager to marry you, I say go ahead. The qualities you seem to be looking for indicate a good level of maturity.

Saved by Psychiatry

Dear Ann: When "From Missouri" wrote and said psychiatry was a lot of bunk and challenged you to show her one person who had been helped by it, I was pleased to see you take a strong stand.

If you should need another letter supporting your position, here it is:

I underwent psycho-therapeutic treatment two years ago and have been standing on my own two feet for a year. And I am getting stronger every day.

I went into treatment with the fixed notion that the only answer to my problem was a divorce. I learned through therapy that my problem was within myself, not my marriage.

I expected perfection from marriage — a fantasy I had built up from childhood fairy tales. At no time did my psychiatrist suggest divorce. He did suggest that I be more realistic. He didn't wreck my marriage. He saved it.

A person seeking help through psychiatry must WANT to be helped. He must accept responsibility for himself. If he is still floundering after eight years, he should find another doctor. Speaking for myself, I can truthfully say psychiatry saved my life. — LIVING PROOF.

Dear Living Proof: I've received many letters on this subject and they are running about 70 per cent for and 30 per cent against. Thanks for yours — it's one of the best.

Browbeaten Mother

Dear Ann: I suppose the solution to my problem has appeared in print some place but I've never seen it. It is a headache which many mothers must share and I admit I don't know how to cope with it.

What can I do to get my 9- and 11-year-old children away from the TV set? Their lessons go unfinished, books received last Christmas never have been opened. I can "holler" my head off and it does no good.

They watch everything and anything. Getting them to bed at night is a chore. I know they are not getting enough sleep on school nights.

Please give me some help. — HEAP O'TROUBLE.

Dear Heap: If the off and on buttons on your set don't work you always can pull the wall plug. TV viewing should be controlled, both in terms of hours spent and programs watched. You wouldn't allow your youngsters to eat garbage would you? Then why let them fill their heads with it?

TV has a great deal to offer children in the way of educational fare but there is still plenty of junk. Parents who permit their kids to look at anything and everything are derelict in their responsibilities.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Prepare Child For Hospital Trip

The first thing you must consider when putting your child who is under 5 years old in the hospital is the question: Is this trip really necessary? If you and your doctor agree that it is, the question arises as to how soon should you tell the child.

Dr. Brandstadt what is to come. If there is no emergency it is a good idea to visit the hospital to meet the nurses and children who are allowed to be up and sitting at a play table.

A calm matter-of-fact approach to the whole business on the part of the parents is essential if the ordeal is to be minimized. It should be explained in simple terms what will be done. And it is important to allow the child to ask questions. Many children faced with a trip to the hospital get weird ideas that should be corrected if they are to be spared unnecessary worry.

WOE UNTO ANY PARENT — an there aren't many these days who would be so stupid—who has once told a child that if he didn't behave the doctor would put him in the hospital.

Even if no such heartless threat has ever been made, the child may somehow get the impression that you or, perhaps, God is punishing him for some past misdemeanor. Such an idea must not be allowed to persist.

Next to being calm it is essential not to lie to the child. It is wise to put the major emphasis on the more pleasant aspects of hospital life. The child can be told that he will have his food brought to him on a tray and will eat it in bed. He may be told that even going to the toilet can be managed in bed thanks to that ingenious device, the bedpan.

IF THE OPERATION is to be a tonsillectomy and the child will be in the hospital only one night, it is a good idea to have the mother stay with him. If the mother does not stay with him he should not be left in a single bedroom or a double room with no other child. The presence of other children in the ward has a calming influence that is essential to the child's adjustment to strange surroundings.

If the child must be in the hospital for a prolonged period the mother should visit him every day. Even though he cries when she leaves it is better for him to be upset for a short time every day than to think that he has been deserted or is being punished. Once a parent has left the ward a child almost always calms down quickly.

I DO NOT want to leave you with the impression that emotional damage always results from having to put a child in the hospital and that the best you can

With proper preparation a trip to the hospital can be a constructive experience in that it will help your child to grow up. If this has been the case he will have no qualms about going to the hospital again should it become necessary.

The board decided to investigate the price of a smaller automatic coffee maker.

The annual Christmas banquet will be at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Country Kitchen Restaurant. Reservations have been made and cancellations are to be made before 9 a.m. Dec. 18 with Mrs. Clayton.

Mrs. Sam Brown is chairman of the Christmas basket committee, and will be assisted by Mrs. James Garrod and Mrs. Richard Amon. Canned food and staple articles are to be brought to the banquet.

Members will entertain husbands at a bowling party Jan. 26, and the next regular meeting will be Jan. 16 in the YWCA when Attorney Bryce Kendall will give "advice on making wills."

The next board meeting will be Jan. 2 at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Amon of Perry St.

MEMBERS OF THE KAYETTES Club met at Timberlanes recently for their annual Christmas dinner and then went to the home of Mrs. Anthony Alix of N. Ellsworth Ave. for a party and gift exchange.

Following a social period refreshments were served by the hostess from a gold covered table pine, poinsettias and glass Christmas balls.

Black candles in crystal holders lit the decor. Small wrapped gifts centered with an arrangement of under the Christmas tree were individual favors. Mrs. Fred Windon was winner of the special prize.

Mrs. Windon will be hostess to the group Jan. 10 in her home at 612 Ohio Ave.

MEMBERS OF THE WOMEN'S Guild of St. Jacob's Church met for an all-day session Tuesday in the church Fellowship Hall.

Quilting and sewing cancer bandages were done in the morning followed by a coverdish luncheon at noon, attended by 20 members and five guests from Old Springfield Church who are interested in starting a guild in their church. Luncheon hostesses were Mrs. Howard Wilhelm and Mrs. Ernest Tullis, with devotions in charge of Mrs. Betty Stephens. Mrs. Garnett Campbell presided at the business portion of the meeting when donations were sanctioned to a mission at Biloxi, Miss., and to the County Welfare Department for gifts to foster children.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Merle McPherson, Mrs. Guy Frantz and Mrs. Wilhelm. The group will meet again Jan. 3 in the church.

SIXTEEN MEMBERS OF THE May Group of the Woman's Association of the United Presbyterian Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Ralph Walton of Chestnut Grove Road, and enjoyed a coverdish luncheon.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. George Bell Sr., who told the story of the birth of Christ. The short business session was in charge of Mrs. Cor Daugherty.

Continuing the study of On the Rim of East Asia, Mrs. J. C. Potort presented the program topic, "Hong Kong."

SCHWARTZ'S

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Pants creasers in blue jeans do help. But I never use them the way you would ordinarily in regular pants. I put them in sideways! That is, from in-seam to out-seam.

Denim will not hold a crease anyway but if creasers are inserted sideways as described, they hasten drying, completely eliminate all wrinkles, and enable one to fold the jeans just as they come from the store!

BETTY DEMING.
DEAR HELOISE: How do you pronounce your name? Is it Helois or is the H silent, or just what? I am completely disgusted with the neighbors fighting over this question?

COFFEE BATCH.
DEAR COFFEE BATCH: I have said before, and I say again . . . pronounce it any way you want to . . . so long as you don't forget it.

Here's the way my husband pronounces it: HELL-OH-WEESSE. I am well aware that there is no W in the name itself! However, since my 200-pound husband pronounces it that way, how can I possibly argue?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband bought a length of 1x2-inch wood, cut it into two 16-inch and two 24-inch lengths and nailed them together to form a rectangle. He then nailed 16 clothespins to each long side.

I screwed cuphooks into each corner, and took a heavy cord to hook under all of the cup hooks so I could hang the gadget up.

I screwed two cup hooks above a doorway under which a floor furnace outlet happened to be placed. Here . . . I hung up my "clothes dryer."

I also use this outdoors when it is warm. I use it mainly for diapers but it works fine for towels, socks and just anything. Just attach small articles to the 32 clothespins!

BUSY.

DEAR HELOISE: For goodness sakes, will somebody tell us how to remove the ballpoint pen ink that our children have scribbled all over the cushions of our plastic sofas, chairs, and hassocks.

I will be forever grateful to anyone who can come to my rescue. I sure cannot afford new covers.

MOTHER OF SIX.

DEAR FOLKS: If any of you have ever found anything that will remove these ballpoint pen marks from plastic and leather, please do let us know. Get out those ballpoint pens — not the ones that ruined your couch —and let us know what you used!

There must be lots of inquisitive kids in this world! We asked this question once before and most of the answers that came in said, "Take a paddle and use it on the kid's other end!" This was real cute but it did not remove some people's ink marks! Sure will olive ya' if you can answer this.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For fruit stains and stains on my hands from gardening, I use peroxide and liquid soap to wash my hands. It gets the stains from the fine lines in my hands and around my fingernails. I then rinse in cold water and use my favorite hand cream.

GERTRUDE L.

DEAR HELOISE: When the ends of your shoe strings accidentally come off, and you have no fingernail polish to make them into a point again — just stick a straight pin on the end of the string itself to ease the struggle of getting the frayed edges through the holes.

BARBARA WITTE.

He said the Soviet Union is bumping into serious problems, including troubles inside the country itself, within the Communist bloc, and in relations with the rest of the world.

He described Premier Khrushchev's differences with Peking as serious and predicted more trouble probably is coming. At home, he added, Khrushchev's government is beset with serious economic problems both in manufacturing and agriculture.

JFK

that. I never heard anyone characterize Stevenson's position in that way and I am satisfied myself that no one did.

He added there were other people who might have. But that, he said, is a matter for reporters. "A matter that, as I say, I think can much better be left to history when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

Kennedy was asked: "You don't know, then, who leaked it?"

"No, I don't know who," he replied, "and I think it is unfortunate if anybody discusses any matter that comes before the National Security Council because I think it lessens its effectiveness."

The tempest blew up over an article in the Saturday Evening Post, written by Washington newsmen Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, which gave an account of the council's deliberations during the crisis and the positions various members took.

Stevenson has denounced the account of his position as untrue and Kennedy made public a letter expressing his confidence in the U.N. ambassador.

Because Bartlett is an old and close friend of the President, rumors immediately shot through the capital that someone in the administration was "out to get Adlai." Fears were expressed that an attempt was being made to undermine him at the United Nations.

On other matters, Kennedy said he hadn't had time to digest Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech earlier in the day in which he declared he would hold the United States to its promise of a guarantee against invading Cuba.

Kennedy said he hoped Cuban settlement negotiations at the United Nations would reach "some conclusion" but asserted the United States would use its own methods to insure against another Soviet buildup in Cuba. These methods, he said, "are very effective."

As of now, Kennedy declared, "it is our best judgment" that the Soviets have withdrawn their missiles and bombers from Cuba.

The United States, he added, will announce within two weeks new regulations to penalize non-Communist shipping involved in the Cuban trade.

The President reiterated, without specifications, his proposal to cut income taxes next year. He contended he and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, are not as far apart as a cursory reading of a recent interview with Mills might indicate.

Mills, who conferred privately with Kennedy after the news conference, said in the interview that he opposed a "quickie" tax cut or reduction that would balloon the government's debt.

Kennedy said he would detail his tax program at a speech before the Economic Club of New York Friday night.

Kennedy touched on these other topics in the nationally televised and broadcast conference:

BRITAIN—No final decision on abandoning the Skybolt missile, on which Britain had based nuclear defense plans, will be made before the problem is hashed out with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Nassau next week.

irement Fund to further discuss the finding of the state auditor in the division of the money. No date has been set for the conference, but deliberations will resume after Christmas, Blumenstiel said.

Outside of the nearly $38,000 in state foundation money figuring in the dispute, accurate figures on the distribution of assets and liabilities and tax money involved were not obtainable from the schools.

However, the Mahoning County auditor's office reported that in the last half 1960 settlement (real estate and personal property taxes), Sebring School District received $116,015.50 and West Branch received $146,603.32.

The distribution was made while the late Charles Rayburn was Mahoning County auditor. He was succeeded by present auditor Stephen R. Olenick.

Representing West Branch at the conference yesterday were Clinton Heacock, executive head, Board of Education President Norman Barnett, board member Richard Burton and Atty. Blumenstiel.

Sebring was represented by Superintendent of Schools Donald Wise and his counsel from the Youngstown law firm, Huxley, Harrington and Smith. The Mahoning County Board of Education was represented by Superintendent of Schools W. C. Smith and board member James Bennett.

Cold

Toledo broke a record for Dec. 12th going back to 1871 with 9 degrees below zero. Akron reported a record for the date with 5 below, Cleveland had a record 1 below, and Columbus recorded 2 below. The temperature at Findlay and Pandora dropped to 11 below. There were reports of even lower unofficial readings elsewhere.

Snow continued to pile up in the northern counties. Ashtabula reported as much as five inches of new snow, building its snow cover to 48 inches, highest in the Buckeye State.

Other snow depths reported were Painesville 29 inches, Burton 35, Chardon 34, Conneaut 36, Cleveland 20 and Novelt 40.

The stinging cold made even more difficult the removal of snow, which has made driving hazardous, and impossible at times, in some areas.

Cleveland Hopkins Airport was closed for several hours Wednesday by snow drifts that formed as fast as plows pushed them aside. Wind gusts up to 35 miles an hour also hampered snow removal on some highways by blinding drivers of snowplows.

Harry Ziskind, Cleveland streets commissioner, said Wednesday night that all of the city's 1,450 miles of streets are open now. He estimated the mop-up operation would cost the city at least $300,000.

Ohio has had 27 storm-related deaths since the heavy snowfalls began Wednesday of last week. Most of them were attributed to over-exertion.

The latest victim was Stewart W. Reese, 58, of Parma, a veteran Cleveland policeman who collapsed from a heart attack while helping a motorist push a stalled car Wednesday afternoon.

The siege of bad weather continues to keep thousands of schools closed. Many plan to stay shut down until next Monday including those in Cleveland, the Mentor public schools and St. Mary's Catholic school in Mentor.

Few look upon the weather as anything but a nuisance, with the possible exception of the school children and youths who spend their time shoveling sidewalks and driveways at the rate of $1.50 an hour.

Post Office

ular carriers are in the post office sorting and preparing the next day's material for delivery.

An innovation is the Sunday handling of packages and other mail at a post office window to be kept open from 1 to 5 p.m. Dec. 16. A clerk will be on duty during those hours to handle packages brought in by residents.

Deliveries will be made once a day to both city and country dwellers, Reasbeck said. Some employees will work as many as 12 hours to keep the work caught up.

The postmaster said it is too late to send packages overseas for pre-Christmas delivery, unless they are shipped air mail. Gift packages going by regular mail as far as California must be mailed before Friday to arrive on time. Even boxes being mailed to states nearby should be sent as quickly as possible so they will not arrive after Dec. 25, Reasbeck added.

The postmaster reminded residents they may also send domestic packages and other mail at Lease Drug Store where a substation has been in operation for the past two years. Mail can be taken there from 8:30 to 10 p.m. daily including Sundays.

Carelessness on the part of card and package senders is the bugaboo of the mailman. "When names and addresses are carelessly written and packages are poorly wrapped or have insufficient postage on them, delays and disappointments can result," Reasbeck explained. Most of the sadness of a late-arriving package can be avoided, he said, by following these requirements:

Pack gifts securely in sturdy containers.

Use complete addresses. Use street number, rural route or post office number. Be sure street names are complete with avenue, parkway, road or drive.

Avoid abbreviation of street and state names.

Cuba

the United States intends to maintain its vigilance against the re-introduction of Soviet offensive weapons into the island. This was the substance of the President's reaction to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech in Moscow Wednesday claiming Soviet policy had been victorious in Cuba.

2. It is the "best judgment" of the U.S. government that Soviet nuclear missiles and jet bombers "have been removed from Cuba" but "these things are never 100 per cent" certain. The United States is still insisting on direct verification of the removal of the weapons and on safeguards against their re-introduction.

Khrushchev suggested in his Moscow speech that the conditions exist for clearing up the differences between the United States and the Soviet Union on Cuba. He emphasized that he expects the President to live up to his offer of a no-invasion pledge.

The President said he had not analyzed and did not wish to comment specifically on Khrushchev's statements.

E. Palestine Garage Destroyed by Fire

EAST PALESTINE — An estimated $1,000 damage was caused by fire which destroyed a garage at the rear of the home of Mrs. Minnie Stewart of 285 E. Martin St. early this morning.

Also destroyed in the blaze were a quantity of tools, lawn furniture and miscellaneous articles. No estimate was made of the loss of the contents.

Firemen were called at 1:02 a.m. and remained at the scene about an hour. The 25 volunteers managed to save garages on either side of the blazing structure, although the paint on them was blistered by the heat.

The firemen said the blaze was caused by an overheated coal stove used to heat a portion of the building used as a workshop. Mrs. Stewart said the loss was covered by insurance.

ITS RELIABILITY COMES FROM ITS QUALITY

A nutshell description of Chevrolet trucks could be "Trucks That Work". It's not exactly earthshaking but it says a mouthful. It's what Chevrolet trucks are best known for—their reliability. Ready to work, day after day, whenever you are.

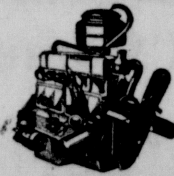

You can't build trucks that perform like this if you don't put quality into engine, chassis and body. Chevrolet does: double-wall construction, insulated cab, select-wood body floor, chain-supported tailgate, ladder-type frame, the careful attention to upholstery and finish. It's this kind of quality that makes any Chevrolet truck—from pickup to heavyweight tandem—worth more on the average at trade-in!

JFK, Nikita Have Different Interpretations of Cuba Deal

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro has been left like a frog on a lily pad, wondering whether it's going to rain or shine. The water around him is muddy and muddled.

President Kennedy put strings on his pledge not to invade Cuba. He seems to interpret them one way, Soviet Premier Khrushchev another. This came up again Wednesday. So, while there has been no shooting, there may be shouting.

Direct invasion seems unlikely. It would mean another crisis with Russia. But the United States did not promise not to try to overthrow Castro by other means short of invasion. In fact, it indicated it would try.

The Kennedy-Khrushchev differences over the no-invasion pledge bubbled to the surface again in two places half a world apart when Khrushchev talked to the Soviet Parliament in Moscow and Kennedy had a news conference.

The only way to examine the differences is to look at the calendar.

In the week of the Cuban crisis, when Kennedy and Khrushchev were firing letters at each other, Kennedy wrote one on Oct. 27 interpreting a Khrushchev letter of Oct. 26 as promising to remove Soviet weapons from Cuba under "appropriate United Nations" observation and supervision" and to halt the flow of offensive weapons to Cuba.

If this was what Khrushchev promised, Kennedy said, the United States would lift its quarantine and pledge not to invade Cuba—provided Russia removed its weapons under U.N. supervision. The next day, Oct. 28, Khrushchev wrote Kennedy that he accepted the President's word there would be no invasion of Cuba.

Two days later, Oct. 30, some Republican senators expressed uneasiness about the no-invasion pledge. They warned against any agreement that might provide a permanent Russian sanctuary in Cuba.

That same day Edwin M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for Inter-American Affairs, as if to quiet the uneasiness, said: "I don't recall seeing anything in the exchange which suggests a guarantee of the status quo."

Khrushchev began pulling the missiles out. But in telling Khrushchev he wanted all the offensive weapons removed, Kennedy apparently forgot to mention specifically this meant Soviet bombers, too. Khrushchev began removing them later.

Left up in the air was the problem of U.N. inspection in Cuba, the key provision in Kennedy's assurance against a Cuban invasion. Castro wouldn't permit the inspectors in Cuba.

Then on Nov. 20 Kennedy held his first news conference since the Cuban crisis began. He said the United States had promised to "give assurance against an invasion" once U.N. inspection had been established.

Since there was no such inspection, it could be argued, the no-invasion pledge wouldn't stand. Then Kennedy added a statement which was a clear warning to Castro he'd be up to his neck in trouble without an invasion. Kennedy said: "We will not, of course, abandon the political, economic and other efforts of this hemisphere to halt subversion from Cuba, nor our purpose and hope that the Cuban people shall some day be truly free."

Things quieted down a while with the no-invasion pledge surrounded by clouds.

Khrushchev on Wednesday pledged himself to fulfill Soviet commitments in the Cuban settlement "so long as the other side stands by this understanding." By this time, of course, as the calendar shows, the American and Russian understandings didn't look like twins at all.

Khrushchev added: "But if the commitments assumed are not observed by the other side we shall be compelled to take such action as may be required by the situation."

Then he went on to explain to the Soviet people, his way, how he came to put the missiles in Cuba in the first place and then how he came to take them out. This made the whole business, one of the Soviets' worst postwar blunders, look like one of the most honorable and peaceful events of modern times.

Some hours later at Kennedy's news conference a reporter—with the Khrushchev talk about commitments fresh in mind—asked the President where the no-invasion pledge stands now.

Kennedy said he would stand by the statement he made in his last news conference. This should provide a lot of Kennedy-Khrushchev letter-writing.

Leetonia Firemen to show Off New Station, Equipment

Members of the Leetonia Volunteer Fire Department, Their New Station and Rolling Stock

Plan Open House For Sunday

LEETONIA—The village's new fire house, completed four months ago, will be dedicated at open house ceremonies Dec. 16, Fire Chief Eldon Holt has announced. Voting citizens passed a $53,000 bond issue in November, 1961, to make the brick building, located near the town hall, a reality. Open house will be held from 1 to 5 p.m., with a dedicatory program starting at 2. The dedicatory speech will be delivered by Roy Ricker, president of the Ohio State Firemen's Association and who is fire prevention specialist in the state fire marshal's office. Others on the program include Rev. William Woodall of the First Presbyterian Church, invocation; Holt, introductions and presentation; Mayor Ralph Kennedy, recognitions; and Rev. Paul Petric of St. Patrick's Church, benediction.

EQUIPMENT in the new station includes the department's two pumper trucks, rescue truck, service car and a Civil Defense tanker which is to be converted to a water tanker with pump. A new $20,500 fire truck has been added to the equipment since construction was begun. Equipment for the truck, including hose, nozzles, air-pacs, light plant, tools and fire brooms, totaled another $4,500. Although the fire house was built by Edward S. Susany, Petersburg contractor, the local volunteer firemen reduced expenses by doing the painting, caulking, excavating and other tasks. Land for the fire house was donated to the village by the Fraternal Order of Eagles No. 1496. Firemen then cleared the site of brush and rubbish.

Plumbing was installed by Ellyson Plumbing and Heating Co. of Salem.

Special recognition will also be given to Harold W. Wurster, who excavated and graded the land. Russell Smith and others who furnished trucks and drivers for hauling fill dirt; Chris Gentile for fill material and hauling; John A. Sanders for loading and donating fill; Joseph Moore for plumbing installation of appliances; T. A. Richardson & Son for donation of date stone; and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department for painting and cleaning. All these persons donated time and material.

IN ADDITION TO Chief Holt, others in the department are Clarence Bricker, lieutenant; James N. DiCross, assistant chief; Leland Helt, captain; Harry Steele, secretary-treasurer; William Beiling, Robert Cushing, Francis Eskay, Arthur Eagleton, Carmen Fery, Shil Fickes, Clara L. Helt, Charles Herr, Edward Kelly, Donald Lodge Sr., Donald Lodge Jr., William Pozman and Joseph Weikart.

Neophyte Naturalists Follow Guide Books

Birds Plentiful, So Are Watchers

Say, did you get a dickcissel this year? A grackle? A solitary vireo?

It turns out those questions aren't nearly so strange as the answer. Of all things, bird watching is beginning to take on the appearance of a new national pastime, complete with binoculars, score cards and murderously friendly competition.

From salt marsh to mountain ledge, a staggering number of Americans today can be found early and late waiting patiently to note and report the passage of goshawk, grebe, whimbrel, veery or other member of North America's 600 distinct species of birds.

Franklin Square

A congregational dinner will be held at 12:30 p.m. Sunday in the Fellowship Room of the Methodist Church.

Brotherhood members and their wives of St. Jacob's Church will have a dinner at the church Monday.

Women of the church are serving dinner to the Community Club Wednesday.

The Exten family met recently at the Edwin Exten home in Leontonia to honor the birthday of Mrs. Charles Herr.

Mrs. Maude Driscoll visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weikart recently.

Label Your Mail, Postmaster Urges

Salem people mailing packs of greeting cards can make the postman's burden lighter this time of year as well as speed the delivery of cards by using the specially prepared labels indicating destination, according to Postmaster Ray Reasbeck.

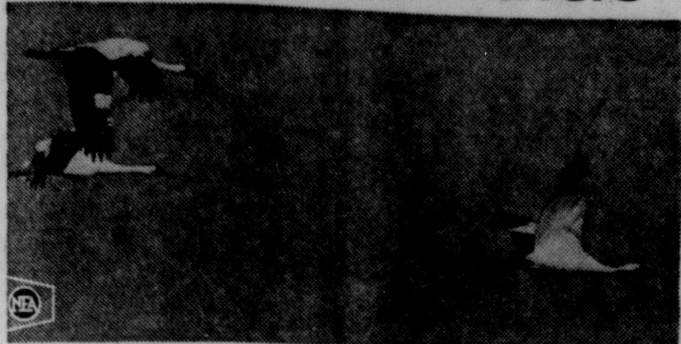

Local mail should be tied into separate bundles with a label "All for Local Delivery" attached. "All for out of town delivery" labels should be fastened to bundles of cards whose destination is not local.

SIGHT TO SOOTHE A WATCHER'S EYE: Three of that rare U.S. bird, the whooping crane, in flight.

PRECISELY HOW many people are out there is impossible to tell, even your best friends may not tell you they have gone in or this sort of thing. But there are a few unmistakable feathers in the wind.

Publishers report a booming business in guide books for newcomers. Record albums of bird calls are in constant demand. One bird-call whistle manufacturer rang up 450,000 sales last year. Binocular demand is so big that the competition to supply use is now international with Japanese optics taking the major bite of this immense market.

By far the best indication of the trend is the National Audubon Society's tally of an astounding 24 per cent increase in membership this year over last — a jump that does not include the burgeoning membership of another 234 state and local Audubon groups, or local ornithological or naturalist clubs.

In Boston, where the nation's first Audubon Society was formed 66 years ago to save the snowy egret from extinction via ladies' hats, membership us up to a record 7,500.

Four separate bird-watching journals are published here. A daily pre-recorded telephone message reports to frequent callers on what wing has been sighted in the area since yesterday. A recent two-day, 80-member camp-out in search of shore and sea birds left a long list of disappointed watchers for whom there was no room.

"QUITE FREQUENTLY," reports Mrs. Ruth Emery, editor of the journals for the society, "our members sign up first as grade school students."

"The young folks stay with us through their high school years, drop out for college, and then return—usually bringing their husbands or wives back with them."

Now, to this reporter the pursuit of the day from morning (lark 2:30 a.m.) to night owl (Midthe guide books, the report cards all add up.

But to the Common or Swivel-necked Watcher, it's easily worth the cost and energy.

THE CHASE, says Mrs. Emery, will bring hordes of watchers out in the eye of hurricanes to glimpse "birds we never see until nature hurls them out of their usual home grounds."

And the competition to sight a rare bird is so fierce that more than one watcher has inadvertently reported a wish instead of a wing.

And why? A spokesman for the National Audubon Society says it's because bird-watching is a challenging way to enjoy nature through its most visible and prettiest animals.

But behind his kind words lurks the sad truth that progress, productivity and population are more and more putting nature into a guide book and our fallow fields at the far end of a pair of field glasses.

Lisbon Social

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

Two hundred fifty-one girls, who had been members of eight Girl Scout troops and six Brownie troops in Lisbon, have changed their affiliation to the Camp Fire Girls, it has been announced.

A proposed national Girl Scout re-organization would set up a headquarters for a three-county council, including Lisbon, which would be located in Youngstown. Local leaders oppose the proposed new program for various reasons.

As Camp Fire Girls, the troops will function just as they have in the past. Money earned by local troops will stay in the community.

Local leaders who have helped make the decision to join the Camp Fire program have been in Girl Scout work since 1958.

Leaders and assistants of the local program and their sponsors are, Legion Auxiliary - Mrs. Ray Hempstead, Mrs. Donald Loch, Mrs. Richard Bowling, Mrs. Elmer Dickey, Miss Katherine Senanefes, Mrs. Carl Morgan and Mrs. Nick Rodi; Trinity United Presbyterian Church - Mrs. Jack Palmer and Mrs. William Kessler; First Presbyterian Church - Mrs. Ed McKee and Mrs. William Carlisle; First Christian Church - Mrs. Ray Alexander and Mrs. Paul Mitchell; McKinley School - Mrs. Robert Hahn, Mrs. Dan Vargo, Mrs. John Blockson, Mrs. Donald Ward, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Theodore Taylor; Lincoln School - Mrs. Twing Hixcox, Mrs. Forest Lowry, Mrs. Wilbur Hawthorne, Mrs. Melvin Stark and Mrs. Richard Williams. One Brownie Troop at Lincoln School will remain in Girl Scouts.

THE 17TH ANNUAL Yuletide Charity Ball will be held Friday, Dec. 29, at the David Anderson High School. Four hundred invitations have been mailed to area residents by the committee for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of Everett Neill and his orchestra of Pittsburgh.

Members of the committee which met Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallo to discuss the invitations and make final plans, are Miss Velma Brinker, who is co-chairman of the committee with Mr. and Mrs. Gallo, Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steitz, Miss Betty McKenna, Mr. Tom McKenna, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gallo, Miss Jetty Liggitt, Miss Jo Ann Klug, Miss Virginia Gallo, Miss Meretta Ikirt, Miss Irene Gallo, Miss Esther Sell, Miss Diane Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dowd, Wendell Cole and Larry Hiner.

Recipient of invitations are asked to return the enclosed post card, so the committee will have an accurate list for next year. Anyone who would like to attend this year and has not received an invitation, may contact Miss Ikirt or Mr. Gallo.

THE FINAL MEETING of the Evening Missionary group of Trinity United Presbyterian Church was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. Frew of E. Lincoln Way.

Mrs. Maurice Armstrong presided at the business meeting which was preceded by a coverdinner. The buffet table, covered with a green cloth, was centered with a Christmas centerpiece.

A Christmas story was told by Mrs. George Nace Jr. The "Casuals", a David Anderson High School girls quartet composed of Lynn Balmos, Diane Forney, Jodine Pilmer and Heather Cameron, sang several selections. After the first of the new year,

TO DISCUSS SPEAKERS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's faculty advisory committee will consider for a second time a proposed revision in university rules regarding outside speakers appearing on campus.

the group will become a part of the association, which will meet Jan. 14 at the church.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union was entertained Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. L. Lewton Sr. of W. High St.

Installation of officers will be held at a later date. Thursday, Dec. 20, members will hold an exchange of Christmas cards. Due to conflicting circumstances, the annual Christmas party, a coverdinner and gift exchange, will be held Dec. 27.

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

Feed Grain Revisions

Important changes in the 1963 voluntary Feed Grain Program are announced today by Ohio ASC State Committee Chairman Dwight Wise.

The 1963 support prices for feed grains have been increased from $1.20 to $1.25 per bushel, national average, for corn; from $1.91 to $2 per hundred for grain sorghums, from $.93 to $.96 per bushel for barley; from $.62 to $.65 per bushel for oats and from $1.02 to $1.07 per bushel for rye.

The payment for diverting acreage under the program has been increased for small farms, those with feed grain base acreages of 25 acres or less. Farms having base acreages of 25 acres or less may divert the entire base under the program and will receive a payment equal to 50 per cent of the county price support rate, provided the entire base acreage is diverted.

Farms having base acreages of over 25 acres and those having base acreages of 25 acres or less, where the entire base acreage is not diverted, will receive payments based on 20 per cent of the county price support rate for the first 20 per cent diversion, and the payment for the additional diversion will be 50 per cent of the county support rate multiplied by the adjusted 1959-60 average yield for the farm.

Wheat Deadline Here

The sign-up under the 1963 wheat stabilization program will end Friday and district farmers who have not registered to participate are urged to file their applications at once with the County ASC offices in Lisbon or Canfield.

Under the 1963 wheat program, farmers may divert from 20 to 50 per cent of their wheat allotment or base acreage, and special diversion provisions apply for small farms. For such program participation, farmers will earn diversion payments and provided they also comply with their farm allotment — they will qualify for special price-support payments and for the regular price-support loan or purchase agreement.

It's a voluntary program, but it's not automatic. Farm operators have to sign up.

DAIRY HERD UNIT TO MEET
The annual meeting of the Columbiana - Mahoning Dairy Herd Improvement Association meeting will be Jan. 17 at Goshen Grange hall.

The meeting was scheduled Dec. 10 but was postponed due to weather conditions.

The program will remain the same for the January meeting of election of three board members and talk by Kenneth Brown, Trumbull County dairyman.

Grain Program Changes

APPROVE SCHOOL LEVY

CINCINNATI (AP)—North College Hill voters have approved a special 4.52-mill school levy. The levy, needing 55 per cent approval, passed Wednesday by 60.5 per cent. The levy had been defeated in November when only 48 per cent favored it.

Election Costs On County Issues Amount To $4,474

Fifteen Columbiana County subdivisions will pay $4,474 as their share of the cost of submitting special questions and issues in the November general election.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said today the charges have been certified to Auditor Kenneth Bell to be withheld from the next tax settlements due the subdivisions.

The governmental agencies will be charged for ballots and legal advertising in connection with the propositions they submitted. The county government will be charged for expenses in connection with submission of a County Home Levy and a proposed state amendment defining certain commodities for sale on Sunday.

In even-numbered years, the subdivisions are charged only for ballots and advertising expenses, O'Hanlon explained. If they submit propositions next year, the law provides they will pay a larger per centage of the costs.

The East Liverpool municipal government will be charged $225 in connection with a vote on renewal of a 1-mill fireman's levy — $203 for ballots and $22 for advertising. The Liverpool School District, which submitted two levies, will pay a total of $504.

The county tax levy proposal cost a total of $1,378—$1,359 for ballots and $19 for advertising. The state amendment will cost the county $1,189—all of it for ballots, as there was no legal advertising.

Other charge backs are: East Palestine city, $158; Wellsville city, $96; Salineville village, $55; Elkrum Township, $35; Franklin Township, $56; Knox Township, $98; Liverpool Township, $71.

Washington Township, $55; West Township, $53; East Palestine School District, $193; Wellsville School District, $119; Fairfield-Waterford School District, $72, and United Local School District $111.

Damages to Home Bring $3,000 Award

LISBON — A common pleas court jury Wednesday awarded $3,000 to an East Liverpool man who had filed damage claim against a Poland contractor for damages to his apartment building in construction of a storm sewer.

Gilbert Berman of W. 9th St. was awarded this amount by 11 members of a jury which deliberated five hours. He had asked for $10,000 damages to his apartment after plaster cracked and water seaped into the apartment allegedly from construction of storm sewer in front of the apartment.

received in 1948 in connection with a hold-up shooting that occurred when he was 15.

Leo Cafferata, 62, former off-street parking director in Cincinnati, will be paroled about Jan. 10, Ensign said. He entered prison last Jan. 8 to serve one to ten years after being convicted of show.

Full Card on Tap In Tri-County League Friday Night

Lisbon Host To Minerva

Leetonia Opens Against Poland

By LYNN BROWNE

The big IF is still evident in area athletics, but this time it's one that nobody — not even the coaches — had figured on.

While grid coaches usually hint at good seasons "IF there are no unexpected injuries" and cage mentors warily predict good records "IF the team rebounds well," Mother Nature has stepped into the picture this year with some IFs of her own.

Heavy snows and treacherous roads cancelled nearly all of the area's cage card last weekend, causing the schools to either reschedule the tilts or forget them altogether.

THIS WEEK, HOWEVER, the weatherman promises better conditions and IF all goes well the 28 games on tap Friday and Saturday should come off without a hitch.

A full card is scheduled in the Tri-County League Friday as all eight teams open their loop competitions.

Three of the squads enter action with inaugural victories under their belts, three others are winless in one or two outings, one has split its two first contests and the only other squad will be making its debut.

MINERVA'S LIONS and the Lisbon Blue Devils, two of the undefeated teams, engage in combat as the Stark County boys invade the Columbiana County seat.

The visiting Lions dumped Malvern 64-55 in their opener while the Devils eked out a 44-43 victory over the West Branch Warriors in their first appearance.

Leetonia will take to the hardwoods the first time in competition as they entertain the Poland Bulldogs.

The Bears were slated to open last week against North Lima, but had to cancel because of the weather. Poland's lone victory was a 53-52 squeaker over Springfield Local back in November.

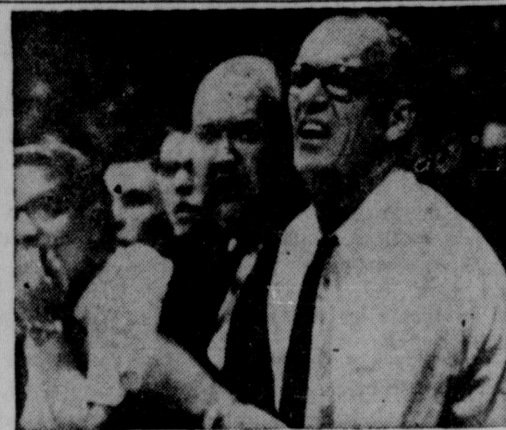

ELSEWHERE IN THE CIRCUIT, Coach Rich Berryman's Columbiana Clippers, sporting a 1-1 season mark, will play host to the winless Leopards of Louisville and the Sebring Trojans will travel to East Palestine to battle Coach Chick McBride's Bulldogs.

Also on Friday, the Greenford Bobcats will be seeking their third consecutive victory when they travel to West Branch to do battle with the Warriors.

OTHER AREA SCHOOLS in action Friday are Canfield, which will be on the road at Austintown Fitch; Lowellville will entertain Mohawk; McDonld will be at home battling Lakeview; Western Reserve will be at Mineral Ridge; North Lima and Beaver Local will clash on the Beavers' home court; Slineville will be at court; Salineville will be at Mary's will be invaded by Southington; and East Liverpool will entertain Warren Harding.

Fifteen games are slated for Saturday night. Lowellville will be at Youngstown North, Canfield will be invaded by Youngstown Chaney, Poland will travel to Hubbard, Crestview will play host to Sebring, Greenford is on the road at Western Reserve, Mineral Ridge will be at Minerva, Jackson-Milton will battle invading Southeast.

UNITED LOCAL WILL entertain the Leetonia Bears, Warren St. Mary's will be at Bloomfield, East Palestine will travel to Beaver Local, Lisbon will play host to Carrollton, Minerva will be at West Branch and East Liverpool will be at Wellsville.

Cousy Sparks Celtics' Win, Hits For 18

By The Associated Press.
Bob Cousy is, according to his own announcement, in his last year in the National Basketball Association. Perhaps he's a half-step slower than before. Maybe some of the drive is lacking.

But don't try to convince the St. Louis Hawks.

The Coos turned in a typically brilliant performance Wednesday night, leading Boston past St. Louis 111-98 and dropping the Hawks 2½ games back of Western leader Los Angeles. The Lakers edged Syracuse 126-120.

Chicago defeated Cincinnati 105-102 in the first half of the double-header at Boston and Detroit broke New York's four-game winning string 115-106.

Cousy was the difference for the Celtics. He tossed in 13 points and added five assists in the first period as Boston forged a 28-21 lead that stood up the rest of the way. Cousy finished with 18 points and 13 assists.

Browns On Way To Meet San Francisco

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' football team, many of its players looking sleepy-eyed and tired after an overnight train ride from Cleveland, was set to continue its westward journey today.

Thirty-six players and the coaching staff were to board a plane for San Francisco this morning. A practice session in knee-deep snow ended abruptly Wednesday at League Park on Cleveland's East Side because of the bad weather. Poor driving conditions kept some players away for the second straight day.

Because drifting snow hampered operations at Cleveland Hopkins Airport throughout the day and into the night, the Browns decided not to fly out of there today for San Francisco, where they play the 49ers in a nationally televised game Saturday.

Instead the team boarded the train Wednesday night in Cleveland, hoping to catch a plane for the West Coast in Chicago.

Arizona State University wound up the season with the biggest offensive total, netting 384.4 yards a try, while compiling a 7-2-1 record.

Tulsa won the aerial race with 199.3 yards a game, and New Mexico was first in pass defense, permitting the opposition only 56.8 yards through the air.

Bifocals Help Temple To Win

Star Cager Wears Junior High Pair

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bad eyesight, good insight and a pair of beat-up junior high school bifocals were the main topics of discussion today as Temple's Owls focused their attention on the strange events of victory No. 3.

Things went wrong for Temple at the start against Bucknell Wednesday night when Bob Harrington lost one of his contact lenses early in the first quarter. A search of the Palestra basketball court failed to locate the lost lens.

Harrington was forced to the bench and the Owls trailed. But Harrington was thinking, and quickly dispatched his three brothers to their home. Midway in the second half, the brothers returned with the beat-up glasses Harrington hadn't worn since junior high school.

The 6-foot-2 junior went back into the game, got his eye on the basket and sank four straight baskets, putting Temple ahead to stay, 48-45, in a 61-53 triumph over the Bisons. In the second half of the Palestra double header, LaSalle clobbered Lehigh, 85-34.

Elsewhere, Bowling Green maintained its average winning spread of 50 points a game while walloping Miami of Ohio, 86-36; Kentucky reacted to a tongue-lashing by coach Adolph Rupp and belted Florida State, 83-54, and Navy edged Gettysburg, 65-63 on 2 foul shots with 2 seconds remaining by Ben Thomas, the Mid-dies' first Negro cager.

In other top games, Bob Foley's 20-point performance led Army to a 73-61 victory over Buffalo, San Francisco defeated Oklahoma City, 86-74; Purdue got by Wash-bash, 73-64; Holy Cross thumped Harvard, 83-64, and Connecticut opened defense of its Yankee crown with an 85-64 decision over Massachusetts.

Reacting to Rupp's verbal broadsides after a narrow 56-52 decision over Temple Saturday, Kentucky's Wildcats hit 61.5 per cent of their shots in the first half and left Florida State way be-hind, 55-33.

Fullback Jim Taylor Named NFL Player of Year By AP

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's crashing fullback who is noted for his great second effort, was voted Player of the Year in the National Football League today by an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Taylor, a 27-year-old former Louisiana State ace in his fifth year of pro ball, grabbed the award won last year by Paul Hornung, the Packers' glamorous triple threat halfback who has been crippled by a knee injury this season.

With one more game to play, Taylor already has tied the NFL record by scoring 18 touchdowns, all on the ground, and leads the league in scoring with 108 points. Packer fans have been insisting that Taylor deserved to be named the All-Star fullback over Cleve-land's Jimmy Brown. They finally got their wish this season. Brown's fabulous five-year reign as rushing champion is sure to end and Taylor appears sure to succeed him. Taylor has gained 1,318 yards in 249 carries, 206 ards more than John Henry Johnson of Pittsburgh, his closest competitor. Brown is fourth with 861 yards.

Y. A. Tittle, the old "bald eagle" who has thrown 27 touch-down passes for the New York Giants, finished a strong second to Taylor in the voting. Taylor drew 19 ballots, Tittle had 13 and Bobby Mitchell, Washington flank-er back had four.

Taylor is a key to Coach Vince Lombardi's system of ball control that has seen the Packers score 38 of their 50 touchdowns on the ground and only 12 through the air.

"Taylor may not be as big as some fullbacks but he has balance and determination," said Lombardi earlier. "He is hard to knock off his feet and he fights for every yard."

ON THE MEND — San Francisco 49ers halfback Bill Kilmer, has broken leg in a cast and propped up on pillows, takes sip of orange juice from glass held by nurse Joan Scott as St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. Kilmer was injured in an auto crash recently. He is lost to the 49ers for remainder of season. His professional football career remains in doubt because of the injury.

Baker Named Outstanding College Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Versatile Terry Baker, Oregon State's do-everything quarterback, was named the outstanding college football back in the nation today in an Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Baker, who is being buried in an avalanche of honors in post-season activity, was a narrow choice over Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State. Miami's George Mira and Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen followed in that order.

Baker previously had been named to the All-America team and had won the Heisman and Maxwell trophies. He was the No. 1 draft choice of the professional National Football League.

"You name it, and he can do it," one voter commented in casting his ballot for the slender, 195-pound Baker who finished with a career total of 4,980 yards gained, second highest in collegiate history.

Baker, however, edged Stovall by only two votes in the balloting by 132 sportswriters from coast to coast. Stovall, a powerful, explosive runner, was the only non-quarterback in the top five.

Baker, who passes left-handed, kicks with his right foot and pitches baseball right-handed, was the first draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams, who had the No. 1 pick in the NFL.

Baker gained 2,276 yards rushing and passing and threw 13 touchdown passes in leading Oregon State to an 8-2 record and a spot against Villanova this weekend.

Giants' Sherman Repeats As NFL Coach of the Year

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman, winner of a second term as Coach of the Year in the National Football League, rates his 1962

New York Giants a better club sports writers and broadcasters than last year's Eastern Conference champs.

Sherman outpointed four con-tenders in the voting of an As-sociated Press committee of

Bankers Post 5th Win Row In City Cage League Action

Sonny Bowman and Dick Youngpeter shared 49 points as three of the five starters scored in double figures to spark First National Bank to a 99-27 victory over Shaffer Ford in City Basket-ball League competition at the Memorial Building Wednesday night.

Aldom's Restaurant trimmed Berlin Merchants 68-46, and Southeast Plaza clipped Coca Cola 59-54 in other games.

First National Bank raced to a 20-4 first quarter lead, increased its margin to 48-10 at intermis-sion and held a 67-22 lead at the end of the third period.

Bowman took scoring honors with 27 points. Youngpeter col-lected 22 markers, Bob Stallsmith had 18, Frank Shagnot 14 and Jim Golladay 10.

four starts. Berlin Merchants lost for the fourth straight time.

Bill Pauline led the winners with 19 points. Dick Ehrhart chip-ped in with 14 and Fred Ackerman had 13. Richard Confoey col-lected 20 markers for the losers.

SOUTHEAST PLAZA broke its contest with Coca Cola wide open in the third period, holding the losers to four points while build-ing a 40-30 margin.

The winners held a 10-8 lead in the initial period and a 20-16 spread at intermission.

Southeast Plaza posted its fourth win in five starts, while hand-ling Coca Cola its third loss in five tries.

Chuck Wilson led the winners with 23 points. Andy Salkow paced the losers with 19 markers.

When J. S. Dale, a 4 - year - old pacing gelding, won at Northfield near Cleveland the closing night this fall it marked his 26th vic-tory of the year.

Sherman said one big reason for the club's improvement was the fact that Y.A. Tittle and the players had grown to know one another better. He pointed out that Tittle, acquired last year from San Francisco, had been injured in the 1961 training season and missed the opening game.

"Tittle had to learn the whole club last year," he said. "Now he knows what they can do and we know what to expect from him."

"Another thing that has helped us is that we were able to firm up our backfield with Phil King and Alex Webster. I don't think we started the same two running backs in any game all last season."

Sherman didn't say it but he knew the club had to be better than last year if it expected to handle Green Bay in their prob-able meeting Dec. 30 for the title. Don't think he has forgotten that 37-0 licking last year.

NEW YORK (AP) —Excerpts from letters people would like to get but rarely do:

"Through a clerical error, our billing department undercharged you $87.63 on your last month's credit card account. But since it was our fault, and in consideration of the fact Christmas is near, we'd just like you to forget the whole matter."

"As your landlord we wish to express our appreciation of you as a tenant these last 15 years. So we are installing a new refrigerator and stove in your apartment immediately, and beginning next month your rent will be reduced $35. Anytime your wife would like to have the place repainted—at our expense naturally—please let us know."

"It is my pleasure to inform you that Premier Khrushchev was deeply impressed by the letter you wrote to your newspaper outlining the 10 basic errors of the Kremlin. He has asked me if you and your family would consent to be his guests for a two-month winter vacation in Switzerland, where he would like to meet you to discuss questions of international policy more fully. It will not be necessary to bring skis or overcoats, as they will be provided by the Soviet government."

"Our publishing firm was sent a copy of your last talk to your local Rotary Club. It is our wish to include it in a new volume we are issuing to be called, 'Great Inspirational Messages of the 20th Century.' We are inclosing a check for $500 against advance royalties."

Mullins' New Kitchen Line Wins Home Show Plaudits

CHICAGO — The nation's top builders had their eyes opened today when Youngstown Kitchens showed how a company and its products could be completely revamped within one short year.

Youngstown's new owner - management, the Mullins Manufacturing Co. of Salem, Ohio, unveiled for the National Association of Home Builders Convention here what the big kitchen maker's new president, Robert Potter, identified as the "most complete line of kitchens ever produced, and offered at competitively realistic prices."

The line is made up of three distinctive kitchen series: Wood, steel and laminate, plus a full array of matching built-in appliances including all-new automatic dishwashers.

AT THE TOP OF the line are all-wood kitchens in three stylings representing new, fine-furniture concept in "kitchen-eering." In cinnamon maple, the wood cabinets are offered in contemporary design or in etched or applied provincial stylings.

In its steel kitchens, Youngstown will offer a selection of five most wanted colors, plus basic white. It was learned also that, for the first time, virtually any special color will be made to order.

Potter described his firm's new laminate kitchen as a tremendous advance in kitchen manufacturing, making possible finer, mar-resistant cabinetry, with continuous laminate, sealed, moisture-proof edges.

"Involved is a radically new engineering principle we are not disposed to reveal at this time," he said, indicating the process is exclusive with the Salem, Ohio, manufacturer.

"What's more, the new process makes possible an endless variety of tone, color and texture, thus making the new laminate tomorrow's kitchen material today," Potter said.

Of particular interest to builders was the new line of matching vanities and medicine cabinets exhibited by Youngstown Kitchens.

IN DISCUSSING THE company's mammoth new line, sales chief Harry F. Howell revealed that area distribution centers are being established by Youngstown throughout the U. S., that distribution outlets of all types have already been increased 385 per cent during the past year.

"Further steps and advances toward still a greater contribution to the home building industry are in the making," Potter said, "through new concepts in manufacturing, packaging and shipping of kitchens."

Matter of Fact

Although it is now on everyone's lips, "astronette" is a comparatively new word in our language. When women are selected to make trips around the earth and to the moon and other planets, another new word will be used more and more frequently. That word, "astronette."

No Progress Reported In Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — No progress toward ending a strike again this city's two daily newspapers was reported Wednesday following a meeting of a seven-member civic committee with Cleveland Newspaper Guild leaders and top executives of the papers.

The Guild had asked for direct talks with the publishers' principals instead of their negotiating team of attorneys, with members of the civic group sitting in.

Attending Wednesday's 4-hour sessions were Editor Louis B. Seltzer of the afternoon Cleveland Press and News, and Thomas V. H. Vail, vice president of the Morning Plain Dealer. Representing the union were Noel Wical, president of the 450-member Guild, and William Davey, executive secretary.

The civic committee of three judges, three clergymen and Mayor Ralph S. Locher attended the first part of the session and then withdrew prior to a recess.

A meeting of the regular negotiating teams in the contract dispute had been scheduled Wednesday but was postponed until today.

The newspapers have not published since Nov. 29, when Teamsters 473, representing 405 delivery drivers, set up picket lines at the two plants. The Guild joined the walkout the following day and its membership has voted to stay on strike until a satisfactory contract is ratified.

Principal issues in the dispute involving the Guild and the newspapers are job security, union security and wages.

IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING memory of Cesare Ciotti who died Dec. 13th, 1961, one year ago today.
His smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall.
He had a kind word for each;
And died beloved by all.
Someday we hope to meet him;
Someday we know not when
To class his land in a better land
Never to part again.
Sadly missed by his wife, Lillian Ciotti.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

My brother Russell wants me to tell you about all the fine Christmas trees they have this year, all grown right here on the farm, fresh cut for a longer lasting tree. For many years now hundreds of people have been getting their Christmas trees out here.

You can either get them up at the house or pick one out here at the Country Store. The price, your choice $2.50.

McCULLOCH'S

SNOW CLUNG to the branches of the big tree outside our store and the tiny twinkling lights glistened like stars — inside, the store was aglow with lights, the red satin ornaments shone against the green of the trees and the carols were to be heard throughout—but there was a something else—a certain wonderful light that outshone any in the store.

IT WAS THERE even when our frost-bitten customers came in the doors—it was in their faces—in their voices and it's a wonderful thing to see.

CHRISTMAS — in this fast-moving ultra-smart world of ours, is still the miracle of old. It is a tender, sweet time to say hello in a kinder way, to send a card, to give a gift, to invite friends into our homes, to WANT to be surrounded by family, friends.

IF ONLY SOME of the magic of Christmas could stay with us the rest of the year. If we could just put it in our hearts and keep it there.

DO COME IN and see our holiday lines. We believe we have all the things you want for those on your gift list.

IF YOU STILL NEED cards our fine grouping is right at the foot of the mezzanine stairs along with wrappings and some tins of hard candies we just can't seem to get enough of—they are delicious!

HAVE YOU SEEN the Cosmetics this year—glamorous wrappings and all! Don't know when we've had more attractive gift selections by such names as Lanvin, Rubenstein, Coty, Houbigant and the best group of "Stocking Stuffers" ever at $1.00 or even less.

RIGHT NEXT to Cosmetics you can find that most welcome gift—hostery. The boxes are so festive and there is a shade and price for everyone. Hanes, Belle Sharmeer, all are here.

LINGERIE is a dream come true for every girl in the world, young or not so young — what matters, when such gossamer misty creations are available.

PEIGNOIRS of lace and nylon in heavenly shades, gowns short or long, slips, panties, petti-pants—utterly beautiful.

THERE IS A new selection of Evelyn Pearson Robes—soft as a cloud in pale pastels and even some in silver and gold for those who like a dash of sophistication.

WE HAVE an exciting new line of wool suits in the prettiest of colors. You can have a pure white, a yummy apricot or mint green, Yule red, beige, grey, black. They are all skirt lined, in soft nubby wools — you can choose from five styles and the price is only $22.98. They would be a delightful gift to mother, wife, sister, daughter or a "from me to me" present.

COME IN and see our selections and a Happy Shopping Holiday to you.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

Christmas Story
By Lucrece Beale

(Chapter 10)

THE BIRDS BEGIN TO SING

Mr. Shnoo watched in astonishment as Herbert and Louise came toward him. The giraffes swung their long necks to and fro and dipped their heads. The enormous straw hats between their ears tilted over their eyes and they looked like ladies of fashion strolling on the beach.

The keeper who had charge of the large animals cried out and started away to head off the giraffes but Mr. Shnoo said, "Wait!" and held up his hand.

He saw a short round man walking between Herbert's front legs and he knew suddenly just who it was. "Thank goodness!" he exclaimed. He went up to the little round man and said, "I was afraid you wouldn't come!"

"Of course I came," said Santa. "For that is who it was. "But it took me a few minutes to work out a plan."

"What is the plan?" asked Mr. Shnoo. "What can we do?" "Bring a ladder," said Santa.

MR. SHNOO BROUGHT a ladder and Santa propped it up against Herbert's neck. Santa climbed up to the basket on Herbert's back and took out a big brown bucket and a paint brush. He hooked the bucket over his arm and climbed up to Herbert's chin. He dipped the brush in the bucket and began to paint Herbert's neck.

"What kind of paint is that?" asked Mr. Shnoo.

"Isn't paint," replied Santa. "It's honey."

Santa climbed the ladder propped against Herbert's neck.

When he had finished painting Herbert's neck with honey he went over and did the same thing to Louise.

"Now," he said. "We'll see what happens." He led Herbert under the nearest tree. The giraffe pushed his neck up, up through the branches until the hat on his head was at the very tip top of the tree.

Then Mr. Shnoo exclaimed, "Why, it's not a hat at all!"

It was a nest of straw. As soon as the birds saw it they fluttered from the branches and settled in honey and they gathered on Herbert's neck like flies on sticky paper. Many of them slid or were pushed off and as they fell they landed in the basket on Herbert's back which was filled with straw and made the nicest kind of nest.

THEN LOUISE TOOK her place under another tree and Herbert was led to the bird cage where

IT WAS VERY SAD because everyone knew that Blue Lady and all the other birds were going to die.

But Santa wasn't sad. He was busy at a stove in the corner. He was cooking a strange concoction made from pills and powders and drops of oil taken from the little bag on his back. He stirred and tasted and sniffed until finally he was satisfied.

He took the pan from the stove and set fire to its contents. It did not flame up but gently smoldered. As wisps of smoke drifted up, the bird cage filled with the most wonderful fragrance and suddenly a marvelous thing happened: all the birds began to sing!
